cided Within Week, Is Belief.

Mineola, Long Island, April 30.—The second trial of Mrs. Florence Carman will begin Monday morning. The first report that it would be adjourned for a week has been definitely denied.

As before, Celia Coleman, the confessed perjurer, will be the star witness for the state. Supreme Court Justice Abel Blackmar will preside. Five days is generally thought to be as long as the trial will last.

District Attorney Smith will be assisted by Charles Weeks and Charles Wood. Mrs. Carman will have her former counsel, George Morton Levy, assisted by Harry C. Clocke, a neighbor of the Carman family and a leading criminal lawyer of Nassau County.
